Daikin Relocates Its Tokyo Office to Tokyo Midtown Yaesu

Daikin Industries, Ltd. announces the relocation of its Tokyo office (Minato-ku, Tokyo) to Tokyo Midtown Yaesu (Chuo-ku, Tokyo) with operations scheduled to begin on Wednesday, May 10, 2023.

Designed to enhance the productivity and quality of work of each employee, the new office creates an optimal office layout and IT infrastructure environment to meet all types of needs including areas to promote greater individual concentration and areas to stimulate open group discussions. A new “Co-Creation” area has been established to attract various stakeholders and foster collaborative creation activities both inside and outside the company as well as inside and outside Japan. The “Co-creation Lab” has private rooms which are available for use by co-creation partners and experts such as startups and university professors and provides space for employee interaction. The “Co-Creation Square” was conceived with an atrium space to hold events and seminars for a large number of people, allowing employees who are not directly involved to observe them.
